Welcome to the undersea world of SEACAMP San Diego! SEACAMP San Diego is a marine science camp offering a range of programs throughout the school year and summer. Since 1987 it has been our goal to supplement traditional classroom study by providing hands-on marine science education programs for students of all ages. Our SEACAMP marine science instructors are college-degreed with a marine science background and are thoroughly trained in Lifeguarding, CPR and First-Aid, in addition to other qualifications.

Marine science is a multidisciplinary field, therefore your SEACAMP San Diego session covers a wide variety of subjects including marine ecology, physical oceanography and marine biology, ranging from marine mammals to plankton. Our hands-on labs and workshops are geared to tie in with our outdoor education field activities; which may include snorkeling, kayaking, boogie boarding, tidepool exploration and boat trips on a marine research vessel – see provided schedule for your school's scheduled activities. We are looking forward to your arrival and are excited to share this unforgettable experience!

Facility, Dorms, & Bathrooms

SEACAMP San Diego facility is located on beautiful Mission Bay in San Diego, CA approximately 7 miles from San Diego International Airport. In addition to dorm and bathroom accommodations, our facility provides groups with lab & workshop spaces, an aquarium room, marine life touch tanks, and the added security of a private beach.

Participants will be housed in traditional open style dorms with bunk beds and will be supervised overnight with one SEACAMP San Diego Instructor in each dorm. Participants identifying as male will be housed in one dorm and participants identifying as female will be housed in another dorm. There are two bathroom facilities, one for participants identifying as male and one for participants identifying as female. Bathroom facilities have individual toilet stalls and separate showers are individually curtained. SEACAMP San Diego currently only has gender binary (male and female) options for dorms and bathroom facilities. Students of all gender identities are welcome to attend. However, students must choose either a female or male dorm and bathroom assignment.

Meals

SEACAMP San Diego provides all meals that are included on your schedule. Meals are supplied by our caterer and are prepared in their kitchen. Breakfasts and dinners are usually cafeteria-style and served at our camp facility. Lunches are “brown-bag” style and usually eaten in the field. Meals are delicious and varied, well-balanced and include fresh fruits and vegetables. However, snacks are not included. If your student will need more than the meals provided, please have them bring individually wrapped snacks in a bag labeled with their name. Snacks will be stored and available daily to students. Food allergy and special dietary requirements must be provided on Health Information Form. Based on responses, additional information may be requested. Participants with very restrictive dietary requirements may not be accommodated and/or participants may be required to supplement camp meals. All allergy/dietary requirements must be listed on the Health Information Form, if not listed, no special accommodations will be made. Example: Your student is a vegetarian but “vegetarian” was not listed under Special Dietary Requirement on Health Information Form, your student will NOT receive vegetarian meals during the camp session.
